

Weekly Report- Britney Ramnarine- GWE Trinidad and Tobago

Work done for RS during the week:

- Formed a team of 27 Global Wellbeing Envoys
- Came up with the idea for a video project for International day of the girl child and proceeded to create the video.
- Created the social media accounts for the RS National chapter for my country
- Created the application form for country ambassadors for my country, Syria, and Kenya
- Created flyers to promote the application form for my country, Syria, and Kenya
- Accepted some applicants to be shortlisted for the interview. I also rejected a few and told them how they can improve their application.
- I made and sent a cute e-card to shortlist applicants to congratulate them. I also sent follow up letters informing them of what was unique about their application, motivating them etc. I will attach the e-card link and an example of a follow up letter I sent.
- I created a group-chat with all the shortlisted applicants so far, to update them on interview details.
- I have already gotten the attention of a local photographer who wishes to do a photoshoot with me and my ambassadors on November 1st free of cost, so that we can raise awareness to RS even more.

Event/Project Planning:

- As stated before, I carried out the video project for International day of the girl child.
- I have co-planned a Breast cancer webinar for the ending of this month with three fellow envoys considering that this is breast cancer awareness month. I have proceeded to get three speakers thus far. I reached out to a social worker in my country who will speak about the effects on a child when a parent has breast cancer. A psychologist from Barbados reached out to collaborate with me so I invited her to speak about the effects of breast cancer to someone's mental health. I reached out to a fellow envoy who owns a cancer foundation to speak on her perspective on breast cancer.
- I am currently co-planning a girl empowerment webinar with GWE's from Morocco and Syria.
- I am currently planning a training workshop with a fellow GWE from Kenya.

Impact:

- I have 20 shortlisted applicants for country ambassadors and more applications to view.
- The Facebook page for RS TT has reached 168 likes in two days. The Instagram account has 54 followers with 20+ likes in 2 days.

- The video project that I posted on my account and tagged RS has 112 views.
- The flyer for country ambassadors that I posted on my account has 182 views.
- A story that I created asking if people wanted more information had 10 people asking how to sign up.
- The application form has 39 responses
